The 95th Anniversary of the Birth of Great Prokofiev.

Sergey Prokofiev ranks among the greatest Russian composers of the 20th century. He worked for nearly fifty years in all spheres and genres of music. His powerful and original talent has won universal recognition. His best works, especially those of Soviet period, have enriched the legacy of world musical culture and become a sound part of contemporary musical repertoire, both in the USSR and abroad.

The list of Prokofiev's compositions includes more than 130 works – 8 operas, 7 ballets, 7 symphonies, 7 cantatas and oratorios, 5 piano concerti and 9 piano sonatas. But the best sides of the composer's great talent became apparent in the compositions of the post-war period such as the oratorio "On Guard of Peace", the ballet "The Stone Flower", the opera "War and Peace" and the majestic Seventh Symphony.

Prokofiev is a consummate master of rhythmic power and dynamic contrast. In his ballet "Romeo and Juliet" the composer revealed a tremendous tragedy and real romantic humanism. Operas and ballets held an important place among the works he created.

The most characteristic traits of Prokofiev's musical style are a high professional skill, depth of contents, flexibility of musical forms and acute harmonies, and dramaturgical mastery. All these put him among such classics of Russian music as Borodin, Rimsky-Korsakov and Mussorgsky.

The development of the finest traditions of Russian and West-European classical music is typical of Prokofiev's best compositions.
